

Searching for Routes

- Step 1-Navigate to the route viewing page:
 - Locate either the “Categories” or “Community” option in the navigation bar at the top of the screen,
 - Click on your choice. Categories will show official routes that have been tested, while Community will show routes created by other users, which may not be fully tested,
 - Two panels will now appear. The top panel displays additional information about routes. At the top of the panel, click on “Community Routes” or “Official Routes”,
 - Detailed information about different types of routes will be displayed.
 - Choose the type of route you’re interested in and click on the appropriate label to view it on the map.
 - A new page will open, displaying the specific routes.
- Step 2-Route viewing page usage:
 - On the left side of the screen, basic information about routes that match your selection will be shown,
 - Click on a specific route to see more in-depth information about it.
 - Alternatively, find the route directly on the map and click on it to view its details.
- Step 3-Navigation within the page:
 - To switch between types of routes displayed, use the two dropdown menus at the top of the side panel,
 - The first dropdown changes the travel type of the route (e.g., “Walking,” “Driving,” “Cycling”),

- The second dropdown toggles between route publication types (e.g., “Official” or “Community”),
- You will be redirected as soon as the option in the dropdown is changed.
